GETTING STARTED GUIDE

MEET BRITNEY

Hi! I'm Britney Little, Owner of Britney Little Photography. I started this journey in July 2015. I want to start by saying I give God all the credit in everything I do! I don't know if I would say photography is something I have always had a passion for as much as pictures themselves. I have always loved to sit for hours and look at old pictures. The feeling and emotions you can get from looking at an image is what it is all about. I am an emotions junkie. If you look at one of my photographs and you don't feel the emotion behind it then I didn't do something right.

I love getting to meet all my clients. After a session I feel like I have known them for years. That's probably because I talk extremely too much and ask entirely too many questions! I do that because I like to get to know you because I am able to capture the real you better when I do. I love watching the way a family interacts with each other. I don't like posed pictures.

"I love everything to be natural and real."

In real life everything happens so quickly that you can miss a look your child had on their little face for a split second when they called out to you, but my camera doesn't miss it. My camera also doesn't miss that endearing look your husband gave you as you said, "Come on honey, just a few more pictures and then we can go get something to eat." It's the little things in life that are my passion to capture because those are the things we get busy and take for granted.

"I put my whole heart into every session I do."

I want to give you something that will tug at your heartstrings for all the years to come. I am not a photographer that is just going to snap a few images and say here you go. That being said I do understand I am not the photographer for everyone. I look at my work like it is one of my babies. I put a lot of time into my post process because I want it to be perfect.

If any of this sounds like the photographer you are looking for then I would love to work with you!

XOXO,

Britney Little

PROCESSES

When you decide you are ready to book a session we can either do it over messenger or we can set up a call time. We will discuss your ideas for the session. I will answer all of the questions you may have.

We will then decide on a date. I can give you an estimated time of the session, but I have to wait till the day prior for an exact time depending on the weather for the lighting. The weather determines everything for me so everything is always subject to change if the weather does not cooperate with me.

After the session is completed it will take me two weeks for me to have your images completed and on to your gallery .
